THRU THE STONES CONVENTION DECEMBER 5 & 6

A convention honoring Diana Gabaldon's series of "Outlander" books will be held at The River Center, 136 E. 3rd St., Davenport. The author will be present on Saturday. These novels (there are currently 8) are historical fiction with roots in Scotland and they cover everything from time travel, warfare, and medicine to spirituality, honor, hope and despair. Even though this is a series, the books can be read independently of each other. Classes, workshops, and speakers will present throughout the day on Saturday. Subject material will be related to various topics found in the novels. Local participants will include performances by the Blackhawk Pipes & Drums, and Bill Hawthorne will display many of his paintings of Scotland and will also present a workshop. Tickets will go on sale in late August. For more details the website is www.thruthestones.com or Thru the Stones on Facebook.

A WEE BIT OF HISTORY

A Mansion which some historians believe became the hiding place for Bonnie Prince Charlie for a short time following his defeat at Culloden was recently sold for over 1.3 million pounds.

The Young Pretender escaped from the battle near Inverness in April 1746 and, with the help of devoted supporter Flora Macdonald, famously fled over the sea, before finally returning to the continent. As he was frantically hunted by government Redcoats, it is widely considered that he sought refuge at Monkstadt House, in Kilmuir, at the north end of the Isle of Skye. Jacobites had hoped to see the prince - grandson to King James II - reclaim the throne, but he instead lived his remaining years on the continent beset by many personal problems.

BELTANE PICNIC

It's always a mystery how the Iowa weather will behave in May, but May 20th turned out to be a nice evening for our annual Beltane Potluck picnic celebration at Duck Creek Park. Bill Hawthorne led the group in a recognition of this ancient tradition while Derek Grant provided background music with his bagpipes. Each year, the Thomsons celebrated their anniversary by providing a cake for the group, and this year was no exception as Ty brought a cake in honor of Chick.

SAS REPRESENTED AT JOHN DEERE CLASSIC

As has been the tradition for several years, Derek Grant piped as three flag bearers from our group proceed down the fairway of the 18th hole on the last day of the John Deere Classic July 13th. In addition to providing Scottish flair to the early morning memorial service, Derek, Jim Scott, Bill Hawthorne, and Darren Low provided some pageantry at the end-of-day awards ceremony. Among those honored at the memorial service was our own Chick Thomson who had volunteered in years past and who passed away in February.
